Poetry reading – Forrest Gander (Brown University)

20 May 2022 (Friday), 6–8 PM CET

The event organised by the Ecopoetological Laboratory

Moderation: Julia Fiedorczuk (University of Warsaw)

Forrest Gander was born in California's Mojave Desert, grew up in Virginia, studied geology and literature (San Francisco State University). Lived briefly in Mexico, then in Arkansas, where his poetry – informed by his knowledge of geology – turned its attention to the landscape as a source of action. After a period in Providence, Rhode Island (where he taught at Brown University) Gander moved back to California, where he now resides.

Gander's newly released book, Twice Alive (2021), addresses the exigencies of our historical moment and the intimacies, personal and environmental, that bind us to others and to the world. Be With (2018), winner of the Pulitzer Prize, was a lamentation for the Gander's deceased wife, the poet C. D. Wright. Core Samples from the World (2011) – a collaboration studied with the work of three great photographers: Graciela Iturbide, Raymond Meeks, and Lucas Foglia – was a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize and the National Book Critics Circle Award. Gander's other collections include Eye Against Eye, with photographs by Sally Mann; Torn Awake; and Science & Steepleflower.

Gander is also a highly esteemed translator from the Spanish, a novelist, an essayist, and an editor of poetry anthologies. He has translated mostly Mexican women poets (Pura López Colomé, Coral Bracho) but also the Bolivian author Jaime Saenz's and Pablo Neruda.
